

Chicago Agent Magazine, 2010

As seen in Chicago Agent Magazine: "Over the past year, Marshall Creative has more than doubled in size and the firm's work now spans every form of multimedia in every sect of the real estate community. Sandy Marshall, CEO, started his career as an administrative assistant, answering phones at a mortgage company in 1998.

Twelve years later, not only has his company expanded, but he wrote and executive produced the TV pilot Shiny People. A fan of the industry due to its variety and the people, Marshall's goal for the year is to position Marshall Creative as a true catalyst for new and innovative partnerships in the Chicago real estate market.

Currently, aside from providing creative, marketing and business development services, Marshall Creative is working on moving to a new River North office space in September 2010."
