

StraubHomes.com Named Best Individual Website

Congrats to Akos Straub and our friends at The Straub Group for winning “Best Individual Website” at the 2010 Agents’ Choice Awards! Akos and company were present among the best and brightest in the Chicago real estate industry, where 15 other categories were announced. Being the company that created the site, we had an idea, after that fact, that unfortunately came too late, but the idea was to create a fake website that looks and feels like a really old website, c. 1992, to be activated today so that when people check-out the best individual website it looks like the original Netscape or something. I’m not sure how that would fly but we thought it’d be hilarious. Anyway, congrats Akos!
